

The exterior firewood quarantine ALLOWS movement of untreated firewood into New Hampshire under compliance agreement between commercial or residential users and DRED or DAMF from:

Vermont: all counties

Maine: Franklin, Oxford, Androscoggin, Cumberland, and York.

- 1) Commercial producers – the compliance agreement would be implemented between the producer and the Departments of Resources and Economic Development or Agriculture, Markets & Food following a site visit by a representative of one or both Departments. See www.nhdf.org or http://www.nh.gov/agric/divisions/plant_industry/index.htm for contact information.
- 2) Residents wishing to move more than one cord of firewood for home heating purposes can self-certify their firewood shipment by visiting www.nhdf.org, following the instructions for obtaining a compliance agreement for homeowners, and printing up a copy of the compliance agreement to accompany the firewood as it is transported.

Failure to comply with the terms of the compliance agreement will result in the termination of the agreement and possible fines.
